

Overview

Designed to last long time and to look good throughout their life, these trays are crafted with a corrections-tested, stain-resistant copolymer and is constructed with durability in mind. The extra reinforced channels are built in, to add strength and reduce breakage. A light texture to the tray minimizes wear and tear from daily use keeping up the appearance while lasting a long time. A softly sloped edge to all the compartments ensures easy cleanup and the compartment depth accommodates a variety of foods.
